A Year We Will Never Forget

On Friday, March 13th, students and teachers left their classrooms at the end of the day, not knowing that it would be the last time for this school year. A break was expected, filled with NTI days, to help stop the spread of the COVID-19 outbreak. A few weeks, perhaps. But the days and weeks dragged on into months. Everyone pitched in to make the best of an unprecedented and unexpected situation. Teachers prepared lessons for students to complete at home and connected using a variety of social media platforms. Cooks prepared meals for students, which bus drivers and staff delivered to their homes.

Custodians prepared the schools for the return of students by cleaning classrooms, restrooms, and halls. Everyone worked together in ways we never had before, anxiously anticipating the day we could come back together again. We longed for regular, ordinary school days. We missed bells, and crowded hallways, and noisy playgrounds. We felt sad about all of the events that were postponed or altered or cancelled...spring sports, field trips, preschool celebration, kindergarten graduation, 4th grade bash, 8th grade awards day, prom, senior graduation. We all felt cheated. Each passing week meant more cancellations.

Eventually, after several closure extensions, it became increasingly apparent and was finally announced officially that Kentucky schools would not open back up. That's the reason that this final issue of Paw Prints for this school year is digital. And in it, we celebrate many things that took place before the Coronavirus shut everything down, and we celebrate many more things that our extraordinary faculty, staff, and students did to support each other during the 30 Cyber Days that ended the 2019—2020 school year.

AES Celebrates Read Across America

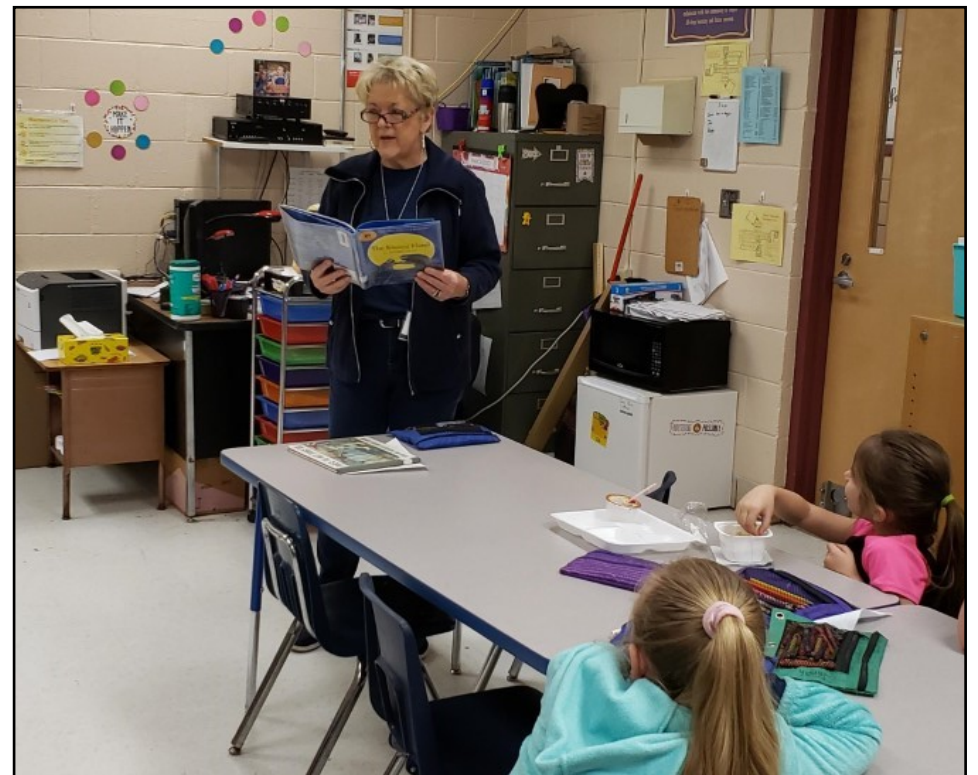

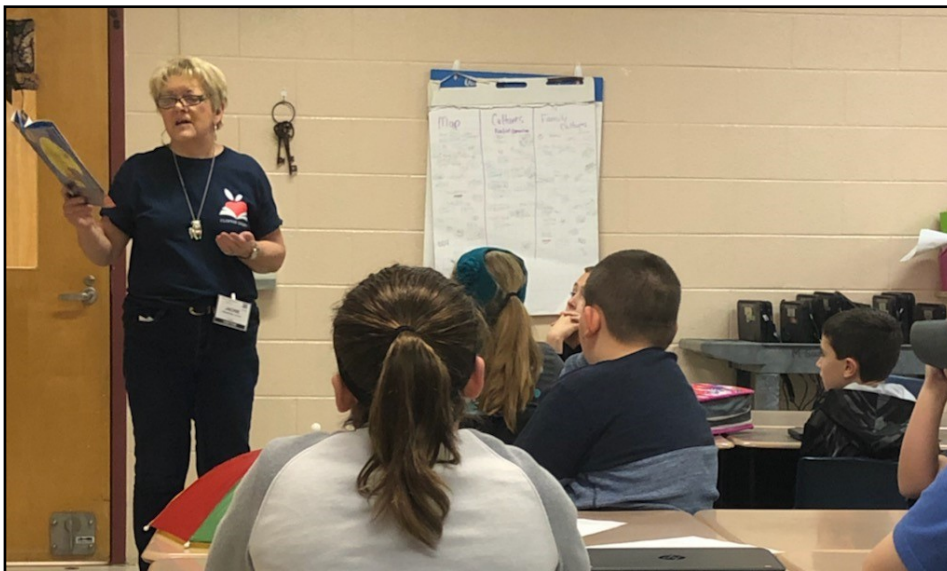

Albany Elementary School would like to thank the Clinton County Retired Teacher's Association for being Guest Readers on Friday, March 6th! The students enjoyed hearing the volunteers read their favorite stories! What a great way to finish Read Across America Week! AES would also like to thank Dr. Sabra Albertson for being a guest reader on Thursday, March 5th! Dr. Sabra read to all of the first-grade classes and shared her love of reading!

During this time, we have had to say goodbye to some cherished friends in a way to which we are not accustomed. We will very much miss Retired School Teacher Mrs. Jackie Stockton—a dedicated educator who loved her students and impacted so many lives.

AES Celebrates Read Across America

Author & Musician Jamon Scott Visits AES

On Monday, March 2nd, the 1st grade students at Albany Elementary School enjoyed a special visit from author and musician Jamon Scott for Read Across America Week. Jamon read and discussed the moral of "The Star Bellied Sneetches" by Dr. Seuss. After the reading, Jamon performed a couple of songs for the students.

Jamon Scott has performed on stages from Asbury Park, New Jersey to Los Angeles, California, and in Mexico as a solo artist and as lead vocalist / songwriter of his bands The Toluenes and Falkmore. His music spans a dozen genres including rock, country, bluegrass, Celtic, reggae, gospel and jazz, among others. He is also an author, whose first book, "Michael Jackson Got Me on Coke", was published in 2013. The book is a collection of anecdotes about growing up in a small town and is a companion to his song "Middle of Nowhere."

Jamon's upcoming solo album, "Strange Devils", was recorded in Nashville and is scheduled for release in 2020. The album will feature an updated version of "Middle of Nowhere", as well as the anti-bullying anthem "Let Me Be" and the first single "Easy to Love".

Log onto www.reverbnation.com/jamonscott for tour dates and music clips.

Students Learn 50 States in a Song

Congratulations to these 4th grade students on memorizing all 50 states in a song! They are pictured here with AES Music Teacher Megan Rains.

Alabama and Alaska, Arizona, Arkansas • California, Colorado and Connecticut and more • Delaware, Florida Georgia and Hawaii, Idaho • Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, still 35 to go • Kansas and Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine • Maryland, Massachusetts and there's good old Michigan • Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri and Montana • Then Nebraska's 27, number 28's Nevada • Oooo, Ooooo Next, New Hampshire and New Jersey, and way down New Mexico • There's New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio... • Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, now let's see • Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee • Texas and there's Utah, Vermont, I'm almost through • Virginia and there's Washington And West Virginia, too • Could Wisconsin be the last one? Or is that 49? • No, Wyoming is the last state in the 50 states that rhyme!

Langley Wins Voice of Democracy Essay Contest

Autumn Langley, along with several other CCHS students, participated in the annual VFW Voice of Democracy essay contest. Students were asked to write an essay discussing what they felt “Makes America Great”. Autumn was selected by the local VFW committee as the winner for Clinton County High School. She received a

Governor's Scholars Program

Clinton County Students Selected for Rogers Scholars & Rogers Explorers

The Center for Rural Development honors five Clinton County students for being selected for its annual youth programs, Rogers Scholars and Rogers Explorers. “We hope our communities will join us in congratulating the students on their selection for these highly competitive programs,” said Lonnie Lawson, President & CEO of The Center for Rural Development.

Ben Tallent, a sophomore at Clinton County High School was selected for the Rogers Scholars program. He is the son of Eddie and Kendra Tallent, of Albany.

Four Clinton County Middle School students were selected for the Rogers Explorers program. Chesney Harlan is the daughter of Jason and Jenny Harlan, of Albany. Akira Nagel is the daughter of Erika Lynn, of Albany. Jonna Upchurch is the daughter of Jeff and Pam Upchurch, of Albany. Katie York is the daughter of Gregory and Jamie York, of Albany.

Due to the nature of the COVID 19 pandemic, The Center has had to make the difficult decision to forgo plans to host all of its summer camps during the summer of 2020. “The Center’s youth programs are near and dear to my heart,” Lawson said. “This was not an easy decision to make and we did not make it lightly. Due to the state of emergency restrictions and the severe nature of this crisis, we feel it is in the best interest of all of our staff, the students, and their families, that we do not take any risks. The health and wellbeing of our students has always been a top priority when we conduct our summer programs. We had optimistically hoped that we could find a way to proceed normally, but we do not feel that is possible. We recognize all of the hard work and dedication our students put into their acceptance for these programs and we hope they will continue working towards their goals for a successful future.”

Rogers Scholars is a youth leadership program targeted towards rising high school juniors throughout The Center’s 45-county service area. Students spend a week on one of two college campuses including Lindsey Wilson College and Morehead State University. They are introduced to topics such as leadership, community service, civic engagement, entrepreneurship, technology and more. There were 62 students selected for this year’s program.

Rogers Explorers is a youth leadership camp targeted towards rising high school freshmen. Students spend three days on one of seven college campuses through Kentucky including Asbury University, Eastern Kentucky University, Lindsey Wilson College, Morehead State University, Union College, University of the Cumberlands, and University of Pikeville. Students focus on topics of leadership, community service, and STEM career pathways such as chemistry, biology, health sciences, engineering, space science, agriculture sciences, and more. There were 210 students selected for this year’s program.

Since 1998, more than 3,000 middle and high school students from Southern and Eastern Kentucky have graduated from The Center’s Youth Programs. Rogers Explorers and Rogers Scholars are provided at no cost to students.

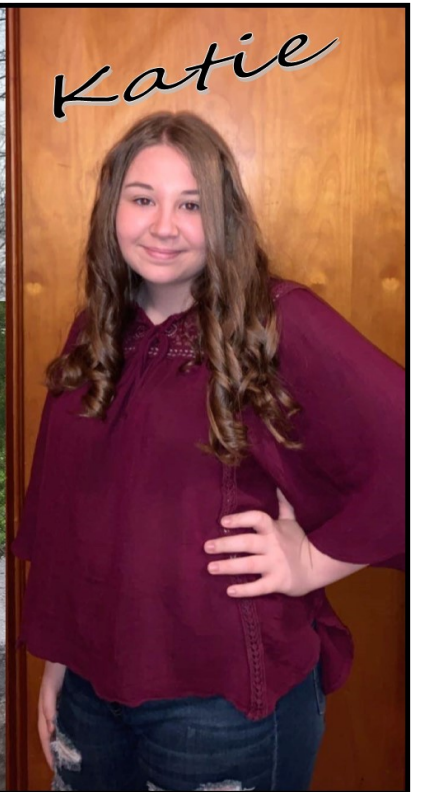

For more information about The Center’s Youth Programs, contact Amy Ellis, Executive Assistant at The Center, at aellis@centertech.com or call 606-677-6020. Established in 1996 through the vision of U.S. Congressman Harold “Hal” Rogers, (KY-05), and other leaders, The Center for Rural Development is a nonprofit organization fueled by a mission to provide leadership that stimulates innovative and sustainable economic development solutions and a better way of life in Southern and Eastern Kentucky. In its 45-county primary service region, The Center provides innovative programs in leadership, public safety, technology, and arts and culture. The Center is committed to constantly expanding its capabilities in order to deliver a range of key services throughout Kentucky and the nation.

Congratulations!

FBLA Regional Leadership Conference

On February 28, 2020, seventeen members of Southern Kentucky Early College & Career Academy's Future Business Leaders of America chapter traveled to the campus of Western Kentucky University to compete in the Regional Leadership Conference. The results were as follows:

Jaden Mullins - 3rd in Agribusiness & 3rd in Local Chapter Scrapbook, Lex Marcum - 2nd in Cyber Security, Tagan Garner - 3rd in Insurance & Risk Management, Lexy Horton - 3rd in Introduction to Business Communication, Jessica Fuquay - 3rd in Introduction to Business Procedures, and Katie Jones - 3rd in Marketing. These students would have advanced to the FBLA State Leadership Conference in Louisville, KY on April 20th - 22nd. However, the conference was cancelled due to the COVID-19 outbreak. The local chapter advisor is Mrs. Lora Grant. Congratulations!

CCHS Delegation Attends KUNA

The Clinton County High School delegation represented France at the Kentucky United Nations Assembly at the Galt House in Louisville on March 8-10, 2020. The Kentucky United Nations Assembly (KUNA) is a 3-day experiential learning conference in which students participate directly in simulated international diplomacy. KUNA offers students the opportunity to experience the richness of cultures from around the world, develop empathy, and hone their critical thinking skills while engaging with a wide variety of perspectives and global issues. Each delegation selects a country to represent at the assembly. The students then represent aspects of their country's culture and traditions with a World Expo Center, country signs & flags during the Parade of Nations, with Cultural Attire from their nation, and cultural performances on the International Stage. The CCHS delegation created a World Expo Center for France and sponsored a resolution – an Act on Air Pollution and the Effect on Humans. The resolution was presented by Delaney Chilton, Brianna Hurst, Camrick Wright, & Gracey Neal. Jaden Mullins represented France on the Security Council. The CCHS delegation was awarded Outstanding Country Representation, which is one of the most coveted awards at the Kentucky United Nations Assembly. Outstanding Country Representation is awarded to the country that best represents their culture through their Resolution, World Expo Center, Cultural Attire, Country Sign, and participation in debate. CCHS KUNA is sponsored by Mrs. Pam Lovell & Mrs. Gina Poore. Congratulations to the CCHS KUNA delegation & their sponsors!

Noetic Learning Math Contest Winners

Congratulations to all of the Gifted & Talented students who participated in the National Noetic Math Contest this April. The Noetic Math Contest is a national problem-solving contest which encourages student interest in math, develops problem-solving skills, and inspires students to excel in math.
